Avisen Securities announces partnership with FundQuest and launches the Avisen Advisory Solutions Program.

Sacramento, CA, November 6, 2007: Avisen Securities has partnered with FundQuest to launch the Avisen Advisory Solutions comprehensive professionally managed portfolios. The Program includes eight products including four distinctive mutual fund wrap products, a unified managed account product, two separately managed account products, and a unique client/advisor driven managed account product.

"The client/advisor driven managed account product has received the most attention and excitement from both our advisors and clients for its unique features", says Kenneth Brown, CEO of Avisen Securities. The product, called Advisory Choice Portfolio, enables the advisor to have discretion of the client's portfolio within the investment parameters set by the client's Investment Policy Statement. The Investment Policy Statement is driven by how the client answers the Investment Questionnaire. The portfolio can hold stocks, mutual funds, options, fixed income and ETFs as long as the securities fit within the asset allocation model and investment par ameters, enabling the client and advisor to have more control of the portfolio. This unique portfolio provides a suitable alternative to clients that previously had a fee-based brokerage account.

Avisen Securities offers FundQuest's platform services through its registered investment advisor affiliate, Brown Robello Capital Management, LLC.
